A native of Pennsylvania, but a West Virginian by adoption, Herbert C. Greer has played a large and distinguished part in the life of the state, since he first came here in 1906.

Born unto a family prominently identified with the Steel Industry in Western Pennsylvania, Mr. Greer prepared himself to carry on the family tradition. Following his graduation from Kiskimmetas Springs School in 1895, he entered Massachusetts Institute of Technology and received its degree of Bachelor of Science in 1899, at the age of twenty-one. He immediately entered the Steel Industry and was successively with the Sharon Steel Company, The Tennessee Coal, Iron and Steel Company, the LaBelle Iron Works and in 1912, became president of the Reeves Steel and Manufacturing Company at Dover, Ohio.

Soon after the turn of the century, Mr. Greer became interested in the mineral resources of northern West Virginia and established the Preston County Coke Company, in the Deckers Creek Valley, near Masontown. Steadily expanding these interests, in 1911, he established the Preston County Light and Power Company and in 1914, the Greer Limestone Company.

In 1917, he founded the Greer Steel Company and built a large plant at Dover, Ohio, and in 1936, built another plant at Anderson, Indiana. These two steel plants are now contributing to the new war effort of the United States.

In November, 1923, Mr. Greer became a newspaper publisher, with the purchase of the "Morgantown Post," his publishing of the "Dominion-News" at Morgantown and of weekly newspapers at Mannington, Martinsburg, Grafton, and New Martinsville, West Virginia.

In 1940, Mr. Greer established the first Radio Station in Morgantown, being Station W. A. J. R., which not only serves Morgantown, but a large section of northern West Virginia.

Although never a candidate for public office, Mr. Greer has been prominently identified with the Republican party for many years. He served as chairman of the West Virginia State Republican Advisory Committee; has been a delegate to many Republican conventions and was their candidate for elector-at-large in 1932 and 1936. He has declined several offers of appointment to public office, including appointment to the chairmanship of the U. S. Civil Service Commission, tendered to him by President Hoover.

The only appointment accepted by Mr. Greer was as a member of the West Virginia University Board of Governors in 1940, a position which he accepted because of his long and active interest in the University.

He is a member of the Methodist Church and the Masonic Order. His social clubs are the Duquesne and Longue Vue at Pittsburgh; the Everglades, Bath and Tennis, Palm Beach Country, and Sailfish Club of Florida, at Palm Beach, Florida, and the Gibson Island Yacht Club at Gibson Island, Maryland. He is an honorary member of The Mountain, Scabbard and Blade, and Sigma Gamma Epsilon.

As a developer of the natural resources of West Virginia, a manufacturer, a publisher, a public-minded citizen, and a proven friend of the University, Mr. Greer has won a responsible and respected position in this state, which "The Monticola" is happy to recognize by dedicating this issue to him.

The

PRESIDENT CHARLES E. LAWALL

This 1942 issue of the "Monticola" is unusually symbolic because it marks the seventy-fifth anniversary of the University. The University was founded in 1867 as the West Virginia Agricultural College and then, in 1868, became West Virginia University. The "Monticola" portrays the events that have taken place during the year and will recall to your minds throughout the years many happy memories of your University days.

I wish to commend the editors of the 1942 "Monticola" for the excellent way in which they have presented this publication. They have commemorated the graduating class through this issue in a splendid way and I know that all members of the class will treasure their volumes and refer to them frequently in the years to come.

To the seniors who are being graduated this year and are leaving the campus during these critical days may I say that I am sure all of you will acquit yourselves as good citizens and will serve your country to the best of your ability. Already many of your colleagues have answered the call to duty and have brought glory to their country and their alma mater.

To all of you I extend my very best wishes with the sincere hope that you will always maintain an active interest in the University and its progress.

Very cordially yours,

C. E. LAWALL.

The West Virginia University Board of Governors is a bi-partisan board appointed for four-year terms by the governor of the State of West Virginia. Its official capacity is that of forming policy for the University.

The Women's Pan-Hellenic Council is the corresponding organization for sororities and its membership consists of the same type of representation as that of the Interfraternity Council. By far the most important activity of the Pan-Hellenic Council is its direct supervision of sorority rushing. Teas were held at the various sorority houses each Friday and the year was climaxed with a Pan-Hellenic picnic. Red Nichols and his orchestra played for the annual Women's Pan-Hellenic dance held in the armory last winter.

THE DAILY ATHE

In November, 1887, a small bi-weekly magazine appeared on the University campus. The prospects were glowing. By February, however, the editor was saying, "Some students are too poor to take the 'Athenaeum' and pay for it. Oh, yes, too poor—but they can eat oysters every night and roll delicious five-centers between their honeyed lips all day long."

In spite of early ups and downs, the little periodical flourished. Today, 55 years later, it is "The Daily Athenaeum," with a circulation of about 3,500 and a regular United Press leased wire service.

"The Daily Athenaeum" is one of the four most important laboratories of the School of Journalism, now in its third year as a school. It was first made a department in 1927. Since its founding, more than 97 per cent of its alumni have been placed, 40 per cent of whom form a distinguished portion of the nation's press.

Founded in 1904, Mountain is the ranking senior men's honorary organization of the campus. Membership in it is limited to outstanding men students who have been enrolled in the university for at least five semesters. New members are chosen in the spring.

As part of its program of aiding the university in all ways possible, Mountain each year sponsors the Mountaineer Week team, one of the most important of all student activities. Active members of Mountain in 1941-42 were: Dave Johnson, Summit; Warren Point, Trail; Martin Fahey, Cache; John Hackney, Lee Cottrill, Julius Singleton, Roger Hicks, Robert Nottingham, Pete Babich, Thomas Knapp, William Powell, Rudy Baric, Lou Kalmar, Arch Bullard, William Lively, Gard Huff, Marcus Comuntzis, Allen Sanders.

MOUNTAINEER WEEK TEAM

The Mountaineer Week Team is a group of good-will emissaries sponsored each year by Mountain, senior men's honorary. Members of the team visit high schools over the entire state and place before their student bodies the advantages of attending West Virginia University. They serve as a liaison between state high schools and the university.

Tryouts for positions were held in early March under the direction of Dr. Richard Aspinall, coach, and the annual tour was made in April. Ed. Siegrist was captain of the 1942 team, and David Dale Johnson was the manager.

Sphinx also sponsors awards for the best decorated fraternity house on Homecoming Day and with Mountain, acts in cooperation with the Mountaineer Week Team; each year it gives certificates to the ten highest ranking freshmen. In line with its policy toward freshmen, Sphinx helps to publish the freshman handbook and conducts freshman guidance meetings.

Officers of 1941-42 are: Lee Cottrill, Emperor; Robert Hughes, Secretary; Dorsey Cole, Treasurer.

FI BATAR CAPPAR

Fi Batar Cappar is the men's mock honorary for lettermen and campus leaders: Alfa chapter was founded at West Virginia University on March 13, 1914. The members of the new society adopted as their badge the small square of leather, emblematic of the goal of college life, the sheepskin. The fastener is a small piece of brass whose significance is a secret of the organization.

During the year Fi Batar played an important part in enforcement of freshman rules, held the first bonfire on the campus in three years, helped to send the band to the Navy football game, held its annual Tag Day, and was co-sponsor of a banquet for the basketball team.

Laurel Cottage, a cooperative house maintained for the benefit of the university girls is an important contribution made by Mortar Board to the welfare of the student body. They compile a freshman honor roll for girls who make an average of 2.5 or better their first semester. This year they have been taking a survey of student opinion on convocations with a view to giving suggestions to the convocation committee.

A history of the campus club was compiled by the group this year.

RHODODENDRON

Rhododendron is the junior women's honorary. it was organized to give junior women who had shown promise in scholarship, leadership, and character an opportunity to work together for the benefit of the university.

The outstanding project of the group is the sponsorship of Rhododendron house, a cooperative establishment organized on the campus in order to help university women to live as economically as possible and yet to give them the advantages of group life. This year the organization assumed the leadership of students' work in the National Red Cross.

W. V. U. GOES TO MADI

Deep from the West Virginia Hills a hardy band of Mountaineers stuck their necks out in the Garden much like the proverbial groundhog. But contrary to the woodchuck policy, they neglected to crawl back in their hole for six more weeks of sleep. Unsung and unheralded, appearing in the National Tournament as an after-thought, Dyke Raese's motley crew of spheroid tossers opened the tournament with a tremendous upset over the renowned Long Island Blackbirds. Continuing their role of underdog, they licked Toledo and Western Kentucky to cop the tourney championship which is the world championship itself.

Showing an odd assortment of players in tall, dynamic Captain Rudy Baric; rotund Scotty Hamilton; Dick Kesling; muscular Lou Kalmar; and pint-sized Shorty Hicks, the future champs soundly convinced the Long Island boys that New York was not in the running this year. With Dick Kesling sending the game into overtime with a last-minute foul shot the Mountaineers really went to work in the extra canto, rolling up thirteen tallies to four for LIU. The final score: West Virginia, 58; Long Island, 49.

The semi-final found the Raesemen facing the powerful Toledo Rockets who had made mincemeat of Rhode Island in their opening game. Led by high-scoring Bob Gerber the confident Rockets jumped into an early lead but were soon overtaken by the West

SON SQUARE GARDEN

Virginians who led at half-time, 25 to 23. With Rudy Baric shackling Gerber and Shorty Hicks leading the attack the Toledo quintet was virtually blasted from the floor as the Mountaineers poured shots in from every angle to avenge a previous defeat by the Ohioans in the 1941 season. Final score: West Virginia, 51; Toledo, 39.

Thrilling the eighteen thousand fans, West Virginia wrote the last page in their 1942 season by downing the vaunted Western Kentucky team from Bowling Green, Ky. In the first half some sensational shooting was exhibited by the Kentuckians who led by an eight-point margin at the half. However, not to be outdone, our boys slipped through nine straight points while holding Kentucky scoreless. But the lead was short lived as the opposition continued to pepper the basket and had tied the score on a foul when, with twenty seconds to play, little Roger Hicks was fouled. Stepping to the charity line with every spectator standing in breathless silence, poker-faced Shorty plunked in the winning point, placing West Virginia at the top of the nation's basketball teams. They didn't have the size but "they had the heart." Final score: West Virginia, 47; Western Kentucky, 45. National ranking: No. 1—West Virginia Mountaineers, coached by Dyke Raese.

One of the largest organizations on the campus, the Ag Club was organized in 1932 in order to stimulate social activity among students in the College of Agriculture.

The Ag Club of today accomplishes that and more too, for its program now includes such varied activities as sponsorship of dances, several radio programs a year, a judging contest in the spring, and aid rendered the College of Agriculture in fulfilling its many functions.

The first Mountaineer Egg and Baby Chick Show, now an important annual event, was sponsored by the Ag Club. The yearly All-Ag picnic is an important activity of the Ag Club and usually concludes the program for the year.

Kappa Phi, Methodist Girls' Club, was founded at Kansas University, Lawrence, Kansas, in 1916. The club has grown until it now has chapters on 26 campuses.

The aim of this organization is "Every Methodist Woman in the University World of Today, a Leader in the Church of Tomorrow."

Kappa Phi is a club whose purpose is to work out a constructive plan for active life in the Methodist Church and the world about them; to broaden college life by combining social and spiritual life; to train for leadership; to develop talents to the fullest capacity; and to form worthwhile friendships.

Organizations

An important function of the University Speech Department is its Debating Team. Last year the team made extensive tours throughout the East and Mid-West, meeting in competition many of the leading universities and colleges of the country.

In December, the team debated with such teams as Columbia, Brown, Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth, and Pitt. In February, the team toured Virginia, Maryland, and culminated the tour in Pennsylvania where they won the Quaker State Intercollegiate Debate Tournament. In the final tour of the year through Ohio and Michigan the team was undefeated in all competition.

The high point of the season was the Grand Eastern Intercollegiate Contest, held at Rockhill, South Carolina, where the team was highly successful and its individuals achieved outstanding honors.

Navy's Clark meets stubborn Mountaineer resistance.

Mountaineer

Statistically speaking the Mountaineers out first-downed all comers and showed great potentialities at shoving the pigskin goalward, especially between the twenty-yard stripes. However, in view of the stiff schedule they faced it was indeed an outstanding achievement and a tribute to Bill Kern and his hardworking assistants.

In spite of the Navy debacle Kern's sophomore year was crowned with success as his team displayed unexpected prowess in holding such gridiron powers as Penn State, Army, and Michigan State to a total margin of only ten points.

The Season

Kern issues instructions during Wesleyan tilt.

McElwee takes a seat.

Resume of the Season

West Virginia, 13; Waynesburg, 7

It will be a long time before Bill Kern and his boys forget that one. The dogged determinedness of the band of Yellowjackets from the Pennsylvania hills caused many anxious moments before the sophomoric Mountaineers came to life, tied up the count in the third period, and roared on to victory with a touchdown in the last few minutes of the contest. The cagey spot kicking of McElwee and the rugged, slashing line play of Benjamin highlighted an afternoon full of anxiety.

West Virginia, 0; Navy, 40

Whew! The Middies turned out for maneuvers with one of the finest elevens (in fact three or four of them) ever to represent the Navy blue. The tars highly touted offense failed to get going in the first half but in the last two cantos beneath a broiling sun they weighed anchor and really turned on the steam. Our Mountaineers played their hearts out that first half and outplayed and outfought the heavier and more experienced Navy warriors, but sheer manpower and experience debited this game to the Middie ledger.

West Virginia, 20; Wesleyan, 0

The Mountaineers romped back into the win column by trouncing a hitherto undefeated Bobcat eleven in a game marked by a stubborn resistance of the Rossmen. The team showed great signs of inconsistency as their power attack bogged down time after time but a 77-yard punt return by Bell took the life out of the Wesleyanites and provided the biggest thrill of the afternoon.

West Virginia, 0; Fordham, 27

They did it again. Those dynamite laden Rams pounced on the Mountaineers with a bewildering barrage of plunges, passes, and laterals that netted them an aggregate of fourteen points at the end of the quarter. Led by a corps of flashy backfield talent, the New Yorkers completely outclassed and outrammed us during most of the afternoon. The one bright spot for the Morgantown rooters was the sterling play of Spelock and Clark.

West Virginia, 6; Kentucky, 18

personally gained more yardage than the entire Wildcat team, but it was just one of those things where they pay off in points and not first downs. Martin was termed by Ab Kirwin, "A truly All-American back," and through his efforts the Mountaineers should have gained victory.

West Virginia, 7; Washington and Lee, 6

A close one but still ours. Frank Socha, General ace, broke the hearts of Mountaineer followers midway in the second period when he bounced from a huge pile-up on the two-yard line and skirted end for the Virginians' only tally. However, in the last quarter Kern's power attack began to tell and Schrader cut down the left sideline from midfield, lateraled to McElwee on the fifteen and the latter raced on over the goal line unmolested for the tying points. A perfect placement by Schrader provided the margin of victory.

West Virginia, 21; Kansas, 0

Magnificent passing from a spread formation and a devastating power attack sent the Jayhawkers back to the western plains in ignominious defeat. A huge Homecoming crowd was jubilantly pleased with the Kern-coached machine that opened its bag of tricks early in the contest and completely dominated play throughout. The Kansans' widely heralded passing attack failed to materialize and their ground game was slowed to a walk.

West Virginia, 0; Penn State, 7

A thriller for the second consecutive year but again we lost. A sensational catch by Krouse, Nittany Lion halfback, behind the West Virginia goal line enabled the Pennsylvanians to eke out a win. The surprise of the day was the stubborn resistance of the rock-ribbed Mountaineer line that consistently turned back State threats. And surely the thrill of the day was provided by Dick McElwee when he cut over the sideline before being overhauled by Smaltz of the home forces. Coach Bob Higgins of the Nittany Lions stated, "We are fortunate to get away without being beaten."

West Virginia, 6; Army, 7

There just ain't no justice. After bottling up Army stalwarts, Hank Mazur and Ralph Hill, for more than three periods the pair teamed up for a 50-yard touchdown pass with Mazur heaving and Hill receiving. Then Smith converted for the Cadets, giving them the winning margin. With a high-geared attack that the Army forwards were unable to check, the Kernmen rolled to a second period score on a pass from Martin to McElwee. It was truly a fine performance against a thoroughly alarmed Cadet eleven.

West Virginia, 12; Michigan State, 14

The Spartans are still shaking from the scare they received in this one. With over ten thousand customers in Mountaineer Field, Bill Kern's lads started off with a bang and completely held the upperhand throughout the first half, tallying a single touchdown in the middle of the second stanza. After halftime Charley Bachman sent his huskies out with such a wallop that they tallied one score in four minutes and a second a few minutes later, adding the extra point each time. In the final period a startling passing attack gave the Mountaineers another tally and they were well on their way to a third as the final whistle sounded.

Many thousands of words have been written and ground out by the sports writers concerning our Mountaineer cage team, among which was John Kieran, sage of the New York Times. Our hoopsters showed in nearly every large metropolis of the East except Baltimore, winning acclaim at every port of call especially from the Pittsburgh writers after their humiliating massacre of a somewhat tame Panther floor combine.

From the standpoint of wins and losses this current cage edition may not go down on the books as the best ever to represent the gold and blue but from the standpoint of the difficult schedule and of the poor spacing of the contests it will, and it shall go down on the athletic records as the greatest combination ever to tread upon the field house rink.

The faithful nine boarded a train for New York on the 15th day of March bound for the National Invitation Tourney at Madison Square Garden. Little attention was paid to and little hope was held out for the tiny band of Mountaineers at this date; but undaunted by the fact that they were seeded last in an eight-team field and were to meet the defending champions, the world famous Long Island Blackbirds, they rolled into the big town and chopped down the champs in a sensational upset. Next to fall were the overconfident Toledo Rockets and then on the night of March 25th our Mountaineers were proclaimed the world champions by virtue of a 47-45 triumph over Western Kentucky. Not only did the team trophy come back to Morgantown but also the trophy for the nation's outstanding individual player in the person of Captain Rudy Baric. Scotty Hamilton and Dick Kesling were also named to the all-tournament team while Dyke Raese was named to coach the all-star outfit in a charity contest. A quivering foul shot by Roger Hicks in the last twenty seconds of the final clinched the tournament and Lou Kalmar's superb defensive work kept the opposition effectively throttled throughout the three games.

Records didn't mean a thing to this trail-blazing five. First to go down was the single-game scoring mark which was established at 27 in a game with Wesleyan at Buckhannon by Dick Kesling, who a week later shattered his own record by tallying 32 markers against Pittsburgh. Rudy Baric by means of his high scoring in the tournament broke the single season scoring record by amassing a total of 332 points closely followed by Kesling with 317, both of which eclipsed Jimmy Ruch's old record of 288. Next came the ten-game winning streak which splattered all previous honors into oblivion. Then came the deluge of eighty points against hapless Bethany which set up a new field house scoring record as well as a new team record.

At the beginning of the year Dyke moaned "We ain't got a thing" and donned his gloomiest look of the year. Then, with Don Raese sparking the attack, the Mountaineers rolled to an impressive 55 to 34 triumph over a good Geneva College outfit. Following the Christmas layover Duquesne met and subdued us on the cold, pancake arena of Duquesne Gardens, however, on March 7th the defeat was atoned by a 41 to 33 conquest before a crowd of 4,277 that established a precedence for attendance. No team in the nation could touch West Virginia on the night of the home fracas with Penn State as, magnificently they rolled, passed, dribbled, and shot the ball around the towering Lions for a crushing 58 to 33 victory. Other colorful wins were recorded at the expense of the service schools at Annapolis and West Point.

Track

For one of the first times in the history of the sport at the Mountaineer institution no dual meets were held. Genial Art Smith made numerous imploring calls for varsity candidates but only a handful of track material was on hand when the opening of the season came around. However, these few cinder men on hand were a select group and made up in skill what they lacked in quantity.

In the early part of April Art Smith took his charges to the Penn Relays in Philadelphia where Frank Hill took third place in the broad jump with a leap of 23 ft. 1 1-4 in. On his last try he fouled on an attempt that went over 24 ft., and the winning mark was 24 ft. 1-2 in. Here also a mile relay team composed of Stanley Romanoski, Charley Hackney, Guy Peterson, and Al Strouse took fourth place in a field of thirty or forty teams.

Later in the spring the timber-toppers competed in the IC-4-A meet at Randall's Island, New York City, where Strouse barely missed placing in the low hurdles. During the middle of May Art combined his varsity and freshman squads for the Gazette Relays in Charleston, where they romped off with second place, first place being taken by the combined outfits of Ohio University and Marshall College. Though not up to his usual standard Hill easily broke the broad jump record with a twenty-two foot jump.

That glitter that you see in Art's eye is derived from watching his undefeated freshmen harriers churn their spikes across the cinders. Perhaps it won't be long before West Virginia is again at the top of the cinder path world.

At the beginning of the season Rat Rodgers' willow wielders expected a banner year and why not? The team was a veteran one from every point with such outstanding holdovers as Charley Hockenberry, Charley Seabright, Captain Hal Grossman, and Charley Strauss. The experience was there, the power was there, the fielding was abundant, and they had captured nine out of fourteen contests in the previous season.

However, the boys got off on the wrong foot as they faced an All-American pitcher from Western State and went down 15-2 in their opening game. On an eastern tour the Rodgersmen broke even in four contests, losing to Navy and Georgetown while shellacking Maryland and George Washington. Then came two losses to Pitt in the Smoky City and a heartbreaker to St. Vincent on the home grounds. Salem was easily subdued in a home tilt but two one-run debacles were credited to the red side of the ledger at the hands of a vaunted Ohio University nine. In the season's finale a doubleheader was captured by the Mountaineers from the Duquesne Dukes by margins of 3 to 2 and 11 to 10.

The thunderous bat of Charley Hockenberry rapped out a .428 average for the season and made Hock the leading batsman for the third consecutive year. He led the team on bases on balls and despite that drove home 12 runs to become runner-up in that department to Charley Strauss. However, all in all the squad kept up their traditional high scoring driving home 85 runs during the season.

Wrestling

Building for the future, Whitey Gwynne with five sophomores in the starting lineup, compiled a rather poor record from the standpoint of wins and losses. Whitey had hoped to do better at the beginning of the season, but his grapplers locked horns with the Buckeyes of Ohio State in the first match and were repulsed savagely without winning a contest.

The following week Temple was met and conquered allowing Gwynne to amass his thirtieth victory as a West Virginia wrestling coach. This record puts him in a tie with Steve Harrick for all-time wins and Whitey promises to outdo his earlier predecessor next season.

Captaining this year's grunt and groan squad was Simeon Hall, senior transfer student from Glenville. Three of Bill Kern's pigskin dodgers joined the ranks as sophomores and gave promise of being very hard to handle in the next two seasons. These three, Bell, Dutton, and Williams along with Smolin and Gould comprised the sophomore talent on the roster. Donnally Morris, Herman Nash, and Captain Simeon Hall, a trio of seniors completed the starting lineup.

Boxing

Russ Stoner made an inauspicious debut as the tutor of the Mountaineer mittmen but was handicapped by innumerable cases of bad luck. Despite the fact that not a single match was won he showed remarkable ability in putting a team in the ring at all. Veterans Sammy Puglia and Captain Crispin Hernandez were lost to the Army at the end of the first semester along with promising sophomores Lewis Tabscott and Tony Pecklinsky. With a completely revamped and patched lineup the contenders of the squared circle deadlocked in a four to four tie with the Bucknell Bisons for their nearest approach to a win for the season.

The spot shining like searchlights at a movie premiere was the brilliant performance of Kenny Hewitt, who mowed his opponents down in all five matches in his first year of varsity competition. The second bright light was that of 120-pounder, Verlin Walden, who lost only one match and preceded Hewitt to the ring.

Tennis

T. Ennis is coach of tennis at West Virginia and had the single honor of guiding the only undefeated varsity team. Sometimes the genial mentor can be found beleaguering students in a history classroom but often he can be found breaking over into the subject of his championship court team.

Led by Captain Al Klebe the team virtually blasted their opposition from the courts as they rolled up twenty-five wins to two for their opponents. Only the courageous racquet wielders from Washington and Jefferson were able to dent the Mountaineer defense chalking up two wins on their home court.

At the No. 1 position for Tom Ennis was Ancil Knotts, a former Middle Atlantic junior champion, who as a sophomore swept all of his matches for an undefeated season in his initial year as a varsity competitor. Right behind Knotts was his doubles partner Hubert Martin, who was just as invincible. Klebe, Tom Hawkins, Bill Rice, and John Murphy all turned in creditable performances in singles. Jack Smith, Bill Davis, and John Strench were on hand and always ready to turn back the foe in doubles competition.

After such an outstanding performance all eyes are turned on Dr. Ennis' combine this spring and he is once again molding an undefeated outfit to uphold his fine record.

Golf . . .

Led by Armand Coulson, who salvaged the only win in the season's opener with Penn State, the Mountaineer golfers swung through their season at a .800 clip. Dr. Richard Aspinall, with four veterans as a nucleus, kept up the tradition of winning teams though he was forced to spend a few hours at his other occupation as assistant to the President.

The squad met their toughest opposition in the first match with the Nittany Lion swingers from State College. They salvaged only 2½ points but just a total of three strokes kept them from taking the contest so evenly matched were the two teams. Next came the Presidents of W. & J. who ended on the short end of 7 to 2 and 8 to 1 scores, who were followed by the divot diggers of Duquesne who fared even worse, taking only one point in both matches.

Jack Spencer and Bob Wilson again turned in fine seasons along with Woody Wyant, who never quite reached the form that he displayed in the 1940 season. These crack putters with Coulson were all juniors and will be on hand for the coming season this spring. Bud Morgan, Joe Bertalan, and Bill Morgan rounded out the line-up and they too have one or more years of varsity competition remaining. All in all, they captured 34½ points to their five opponents' 10½, thus ending another fine year.

The Only Real Security Is a Home of Your Own!

STOCKS depreciate, BONDS may be defaulted, inflation may come—but so long as a home stands it is shelter, it is security, it is stability for a man and his family—Prices are now very low—Loans are easily secured—Therefore, this is a GOOD time to build.

We invite you to visit our plant, inspect our stock and compare our prices as it is very important that you see the material that is to be used in your home before you purchase same.

We carry a large and complete stock of Lumber and Building Supplies and can manufacture your interior trim and millwork to suit your individual taste at no extra cost.

The Torch of Freedom

This is a great land. It is a land of opportunity, land of wealth, a land of liberty-loving people, a land now apparently destined to play an unprecedented role in shaping the future of the world.

To all of us, one of the most inspiring things which publicly symbolizes these blessings is the Statue of Liberty. The flaming torch, undimmed by time, will keep burning through this crisis, because we will not let it be snuffed out.

In every institution of learning, in every factory, place of business, home, farm, in the far places, the strength of the nation's millions is massed for victory, to the end that the torch of freedom of thought, of action, and of belief shall never be extinguished. Working together, only success can crown our common effort.

Eyes and Efficiency . . . .

America is at War. The fate of our country, perhaps of the whole civilized world, may depend upon the ability of Americans to produce a vast amount of material in a short time. Everyone of us is a soldier on this production front. It is of vital importance that we soldiers in the homes and in the plants maintain good health in general, good eyesight in particular; and good lighting is a prerequisite to both.

"Better Light" means more than "Better Sight" today. It means a healthier, stronger nation; faster, more efficient production and less waste in our industrial plants; fewer costly accidents.

"Better Sight" through "Better Light" may mean another thing we hold most dear—VICTORY.
